ADMINISTRATION

Founder and Director, Meridian 180, 2011-2018.

- Meridian 180 served as the prototype of a multilingual platform for policy solutions + experimentation. Meridian 180 grew to a membership of 850 + thought leaders from academia, business and the public sector. With a center of gravity in the Pacific Rim, Meridian 180 established an intellectual, social, and political infrastructure designed to address future global crises.
- Meridian 180 began as a partnership of Cornell University's Mario Einaudi Center for International Studies; the Clarke Program in East Asian Law and Culture at Cornell Law School; Ewha Womans University in Seoul, Korea; the Institute for Social Science at the University of Tokyo; and the University of New South Wales.

- Meridian 180 has been integrated into Northwestern University's Buffett Institute for Global Studies where the approach and framework it pioneered will serve as a blueprint for the future.
- More information at <https://meridian.northwestern.edu>

Founder and Director, Clarke Program in East Asian Law and Culture, Cornell University, 2002-2018.

- Built a national top five program in East Asian Legal Studies known for its interdisciplinary approach and for involvement of faculty and students from across the university.
- Developed and nurtured strong relations with donors and alumni in the US and in Asia.

Co-Chair, Cornell University Social Sciences Advisory Council, 2003-2004.

- University-wide committee responsible for revitalizing the social sciences at Cornell.
- Led to establishment of Cornell Institute for Social Sciences.
